Tim, Eileen and Becky wish all readers of Wenhaston Word, a happy, healthy and prosperous New Year!

Wenhaston Community Play Scheme

Wenhaston Community Play Scheme is seeking to recruit a Play Leader and Assistant to enable the After-School Club to get up and running in the new Pre-School building at Wenhaston Primary School in early 2008.

The After-School Club is for children age 5-9 years, running from 3:15pm - 6:00pm Monday to Friday during term-time. It aims to provide a safe, fun and welcoming environment for children to relax after school, enabling parents to finish their working day. In time, we hope to open a Holiday Club to provide childcare during the school holidays.

A committee meeting will be held at the School at 8:00pm on Monday 7th January and there are several vacancies for committee members at present. We would very much like to include members of the wider community on the Play Scheme committee, you don't have to be a parent with young children! If anyone has time and skills to share, we would appreciate your involvement. Please call 01986 872947 if you are interested and Lindsey would be happy to give more details.

Joyce Sidey Brogdon's new book

Many people may remember meeting Joyce Sidey Brogdon during her visit to Wenhaston in 2003. Joyce had written 'Majuba House', her book which includes her years spent in Wenhaston, named after the house where she lived.

An open meet-the-author event took place in the Church Room with Joyce also visiting the village school and 'Majuba House' itself, since renamed 'Crossways'.

Joyce still remembers Wenhaston, and especially the great reception she received that day.

She has been in touch with us at Wenhaston Word about her new, award-winning, book 'The Gold Chaser'.

(2007 USA Book News National 'Best Books' Award Winner in the Biography Category).

More information can be found on www.gracebooks.biz which interestingly also features 'Majuba House', available in both book form and as 2 audio CDs.

See The Gold Chaser advert on page 3.

Eileen Heaps

Author Joyce Sidey Brogdon, was born in London, grew up as a foster child in Suffolk, then returned as a teenager to her Mother's home in Wembley, a London suburb.

A few years after she emigrated to America, her family sold the house in Wembley to Edmund and Bridie Kavanagh.

Joyce Sidey Brogdon

Her brother introduced her to this delightful couple in 1966. A wonderful friendship began at that first meeting that developed over the years and continues to the present.

The book is hardback, 126 pages. Borrego Publishing, ISBN 10-0-9778545-2-3.

See advert on page 3. www.gracebooks.biz

The Gold Chaser by Joyce Sidey Brogdon is the story of a remarkably talented Irishman whose works are so distinctive they need no signature. Master craftsman, repoussé chaser Edmund Kavanagh's art carries his inimitable style in every piece, a style he has been painstakingly and lovingly developing over the last fifty years.

Repoussé is bas-relief ornamentation in precious metal. It is a hand-crafted skill that flourished from medieval times to the middle of the twentieth century and is now considered a dying art. Edmund is among the handful of Master repoussé chasers in the world who produce this fine art work. Over the past half-century he has fashioned hundreds of the world's most priceless pieces.

The sheer volume and variety of his work is incredible. His custom crafted chalices, menorahs, band maces, sports trophies and specialized jewellery are prized as collectors' items by their owners.

His legendary reproductions of museum pieces are numerous.

Of all the pieces that have passed through his hands, his flagship piece is the 18-carat gold rose bowl for the 50th wedding anniversary for President and Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower. In 1965 Aspreys of London called Edmund to be part of the team to work on the project. His part was to do the repoussé chasing.

This biographic account combines a cameo of the artist with magnificent illustrations and descriptions of his famous art works. It tells the story of Edmund's childhood in Dublin, his early years in England, and of his later years working for David Webb and Tiffany's in New York.

Wenhaston W.I.

Our next meeting is an Open Meeting at Wenhaston Village Hall, on Wednesday 9th January at 7:30pm. The speaker is Bob Cross and his talk is on Egyptology. A subject about which there is a great deal of interest if the Tutankhamen exhibition is anything to go on! All welcome.

We then meet throughout the year on the first Wednesday evening of each month. Subscriptions are due in January; they have risen to £27, an increase which is causing considerable controversy.

Footpath Walking

Both walks in January will start from Wenhaston Village Hall at 10:00am.

Tuesday 1st will be a local walk.

Tuesday 15th will be via Thorington to Bramfield for lunch.

Wishing you all a Happy New Year.

Communications.

The River Blyth has always been a means of communication. Boats could not proceed further than Blyford until 1761 when the Blyth Navigation was opened which widened the river and allowed boats to reach Halesworth.

The Southwold Railway was opened on 24th September 1879 and the journey from Halesworth to Southwold took 37 minutes over the 16 miles. Wenhaston station was built next to the only level crossing on the line. There were usually four trains a day each way. Owing to the advance of motor traffic the line closed on 11th April 1929.

Unmade roads and tracks were around for many years until the Turnpike Roads were built. One such road is now the A144 leading from Darsham to Halesworth via Bramfield. A portion of this road passed through a piece of Wenhaston parish and the powers that be promptly erected a Tollgate and charged fees for passing through! The site of this Tollgate is opposite the milestone showing London 99 miles placed a hundred yards east of the Bramfield level crossing.

Wenhaston WEA

The ten week course which finished on 30th November entitled 'An East Anglian Miscellany' was enthusiastically delivered and equally enthusiastically received. Stuart Bowell, our tutor, is an experienced teacher with an infectious love of his subject: East Anglia Past and Present. He roamed across its landscapes, sailed its broads, hobnobbed with its naturalists and artists and lovingly described its buildings, both secular and sacred. He illustrated his talks with some wonderful slides and old photographs.

The Course was informative, amusing and entertaining. If Mr. Bowell keeps delivering this level of expertise and enthusiasm he will surely become an East Anglian institution himself!

Next term's topic is 'The Country Estate Revealed', focused on Thornham in Suffolk. A natural follow-up I would say.

It starts on Friday 11th January. Contact Kathleen Orme on 01502 478708.

Doggy Bags

How nice of a certain person to leave the bag of doggy poo outside a driveway in Hall Road on December 4th. This is not the first time that these little 'wrapped parcels' have found their way into my dustbin!

So how would you feel if I were to leave the contents of my cat's litter tray outside your gate? Not amused I guess.

We have so many responsible dog owners in our village so please do as they do and use the bins that are provided.

Surely it would be so embarrassing to be named and shamed! Sandra Canham

Wenhaston Gardeners Club

The Magic of Christmas

A good time was had by all at our Christmas party. President Ric Staines joined 48 members and friends for a sumptuous buffet spread. With the Hall and tables looking splendidly festive everyone was soon in the party mood.

The evening started with a presentation by Chairman Jenny Jeffrey to past Chairman Bernard Orme and Kathleen in appreciation of all their hard work for the Club. Then, while we ate, each table was entertained by our guest Magician who kept us guessing with his tricks and who could do quite amazing things with balloons!

With full stomachs and cheered by a glass or two of wine we rounded off the evening with some carols before setting out into the frosty night for home.

Just a reminder that we start our monthly meetings on January 8th with a talk on Showing Flowers and Vegetables. Time to get those seed catalogues and start planning for the New Year's gardening.

News from the Bus Shelter

This time of year seems to be popular for making resolutions, so if you don't already use our local buses then now's the time to start. As Wenhaston is beginning to show its green credentials you can reduce your carbon footprint by taking an occasional bus journey – and save money on petrol and parking.

If you're over 60 then get a Suffolk Saver – all your journeys starting or ending in Suffolk are free! And from next year you'll be entitled to free bus travel right across England from April 2008.

Perhaps you're asking how to get started with using the buses. The best way is to pick up timetables at the Post Office. Suffolk County Council's guide no.16 – 'Halesworth, Southwold and Surrounding Area' tells you about most of the services passing through our village, and a few other useful ones, will be available later in January.

The 521 is probably our most useful service for those wishing to go to Southwold or Halesworth for shopping. It is timed to coincide with daytime trains at Halesworth station, or you might consider taking the Anglian Bus 588 service to Norwich. By staying on the 521 at Halesworth you can take a very pleasant trip to Aldeburgh via Saxmundham.

On Sundays the 521 bus becomes the 99B which starts in Halesworth, passing through Wenhaston and Southwold on its way to Lowestoft. Whilst on the subject of Lowestoft, the 601 bus on Thursdays will get you there for a shopping trip for a few hours. This bus now calls into James Paget hospital and finishes at Great Yarmouth.

There are other buses – the 178 and 523 also run between Southwold and Halesworth and on to Bungay and a 536 can get you to Beccles and back.

For journeys in the local area the 'Pathfinder' can help where there isn't a bus service available. You can book it like a taxi, but you pay bus rates, or nothing if you have a bus pass.

For journeys further afield the train provides a good service – by advance booking you can pay as little as £6 for a single journey to London.

For those without cars Halesworth Volunteer Centre runs a community car service which costs far less than a taxi ride.

Wenhaston's Dual Carriageway

My letter published in last month's Wenhaston Word about the new entrance created alongside my property has created a lot of interest. Unfortunately some people blamed Roger Desborough for the damage to the thicket. This is not so, Mr Desborough had absolutely nothing to do with the new access way and I apologise to him for any misunderstanding my letter may have caused.

Wenhaston Archive Project

As we start the new year the Wenhaston archive project group is looking back as well as looking forward!

There has been a wonderfully enthusiastic response to the requests for old Wenhaston photographs and memorabilia. A small but dedicated group have been busy scanning all these documents and photos into a database. This enables the original item to be safely returned, while the database means images can be stored and looked at in detail. Eventually a website will be created enabling greater access to these precious records of Wenhaston life, which otherwise may not have been seen by many people, or may have been lost altogether.

In a few months time it is planned to hold an Archive Exhibition Weekend at Wenhaston Village Hall. We hope that as many people as possible will come along, and bring their friends, to see the collection to date and perhaps help us identify people and places. We think this weekend will be a lot of fun. Meanwhile please continue to bring in more photos etc even if they are in bad condition. We are sure there are still many items of interest yet to be recorded.

Wenhaston Websites Report

Blythweb Ltd run a number of local websites for towns and villages in the Blyth Valley. We are really pleased to say that the visitors to all seven websites have been very high last summer with over 4,000 visits per day recorded during August 2007. We share this huge audience with our advertisers. Our client base includes a wonderfully varied mix of professions and services as well as tourist accommodation providers.

During July 2007, the Wenhaston Website itself (www.wenhaston.net/) recorded a total of 22,628 visits which is an all time record for a full month. The busiest section by far was the Millennium Map (www.wenhaston.net/mmap/) although the extensive photo report of the 2007 Tractor run was also well used, as was the photos page and the new feature about the Wenhaston Doom.

The electronic version of the Good Village Guide has averaged 350 visits a month between July - December 2007.

The Wenhaston Word's own website (www.wenhastonword.co.uk) includes electronic versions of all the editions that Blythweb has published and these are also well read, with the numbers of monthly online accesses/downloads rivalling the number of copies printed each month (440).

If you would like to advertise your business on the Blythweb Group of Local Websites come and have a chat with us

Tim Heaps

NB: Visits = one person visiting the website who may then go on to request other pages. Blythweb prefers to publish 'visit' figures as an expression of usage rather than 'hits' which is a misleading term often resulting in inflated figures.

Cleaner, Safer Neighbourhoods

Many people are actively doing their bit for the global environment by recycling, saving energy and buying local produce. But what are we doing about anti-social behaviour that can affect our immediate surroundings, such as litter, graffiti, fly-tipping, dog fouling and abandoned cars?

These are some of the most common complaints from local residents yet many are reluctant to challenge irresponsible dog owners or report people for dropping litter. Young people often get the blame but some adults can be just as bad; not realising that all littering is a criminal offence carrying fines of up to £2,500.

Keeping our communities clean, safe and litter-free is a challenge for council services, which costs tax payers more than half a billion pounds a year nationally. Cleansing teams work hard to remove graffiti and rubbish promptly to reduce the risk of repeat offending, but they rely on the public to keep them informed.

Did you know that Suffolk Coastal District Council spends £600,000 on clearing litter from our streets, parks, beaches and roadsides each year - money which could be put to much better use.

Parish and town councils have also responded to the problem by providing extra litter and dog mess bins, fixed penalty notices, volunteer litter picks and removing of graffiti, however they too need the support of the community to succeed.

Play your part for a cleaner, safer environment by reporting any anti-social behaviour as soon as you see it. The new Safer Neighbourhood Teams, made up of police, councils, organisations and volunteers, are working together to listen to people's concerns and tackle local issues promptly. You can contact your parish/ward team and report problems by visiting www.safersuffolk.org.uk or by telephoning Suffolk Constabulary on 01473 613500.

You can contact Suffolk Coastal District Council environmental services department on 01394 444000 or by email to scsltd@suffolkcoastal.gov.uk.

Problems such as fly-tipping and abandoned cars can also be reported online at www.onesuffolk.co.uk. Mary Burgess

Great Expectations from Circle 67

The Circle 67 Players' post-Christmas production is a big-cast, fast-moving stage adaptation of Dickens' much-loved novel Great Expectations. It is the story of Pip, an orphan who, thanks to a mysterious benefactor, leaves behind a bleak life in the Kentish marshes for the promise of a wealthy life in London as a man about town. But the two lives spectacularly collide, and Pip finds that expectations are not always realised the way you want them to be.

Do come and see us in January at Bramfield Village Hall on the 10th and The Cut on 11th & 12th January: three evenings at 7:30pm and a family matinee at 2:30pm on Saturday 12th.
